Calamos Investments Launches Calamos Short-Term Bond Fund (CSTIX)

Naperville, Illinois, September 24, 2018 – Calamos Investments, the global investment management firm, announced today the launch of the Calamos Short-Term Bond Fund (CSTIX).

The fund will invest at least 80% of its assets in a broad range of investment grade debt securities with a dollar-weighted average maturity of under three years.

Calamos Chief Executive Officer John Koudounis said, “We’re committed to expanding our fixed income product suite as part of our overall growth strategy. The launch of this fund addresses a near-term need for nimble, low-duration yield strategies as well as providing us with another building block for creating multi-asset client solutions.”

“Our firm was founded on serving clients with active risk management throughout a full market cycle,” said John P. Calamos Sr., Founder, Chairman and Global Chief Investment Officer. He continued, “The Calamos Short-Term Bond Fund may serve as an important component in an investor’s overall asset allocation plan.”

Matthew Freund, Calamos Co-Chief Investment Officer and Head of Fixed Income Strategies, said, “Along with our fixed income team, I look forward to bringing our shorter duration strategy to our clients. We believe a disciplined process, grounded in fundamental research, enables us to achieve higher returns with lower volatility.”

The fund formally incorporates ESG into its investment process, joining the Calamos International Growth Fund (CIGIX), which also utilizes an ESG review.
