Managing Risk with a Long/Short Alternative

Alternatives have generated superior risk-adjusted returns over market cycles for decades. An allocation toward alternatives may help limit losses in down periods, which aids in long-term wealth creation.

RISING MARKET PARTICIPATION WITH DOWNSIDE PROTECTION

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Please see additional disclosures on first page.

The principal risks of investing in the Calamos Long/Short Fund include: equity securities risk consisting of market prices declining in general, short sale risk consisting of potential for unlimited losses, leverage risk, and foreign securities risk. Alternative investments may not be suitable for all investors.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Alternative investments may not be suitable for all investors. The fund takes long positions in companies that are expected to outperform the equity markets, while taking short positions in companies that are expected to underperform the equity markets and for hedging purposes. The fund may lose money should the securities the fund is long decline in value or if the securities the fund has shorted increase in value, but the ultimate goal is to realize returns in both rising and falling equity markets while providing a degree of insulation from increased market volatility. The Calamos Long/Short Fund has an inception date of June 3, 2013. There are significant differences between the HFRI Equity Index, the S&P 500 Index and the fund itself. The indexes shown are not intended as proxies for the fund's actual performance and may differ significantly once the fund has a longer performance history. For index definitions see disclosure on page 2. Asset allocation/diversification does not guarantee investment returns and does not eliminate the risk of loss.

Portfolios are managed according to their respective strategies which may differ significantly in terms of security holdings, industry weightings, and asset allocation from those of the benchmark(s). Portfolio performance, characteristics and volatility may differ from the benchmark(s) shown.

The S&P 500 Index is generally considered representative of the U.S. stock market.

The HFRI Equity Hedge Index consists of funds where portfolio managers maintain long and short positions in primarily equity and derivative securities.

Unmanaged index returns assume reinvestment of any and all distributions and, unlike fund returns, do not reflect fees, expenses or sales charges. Investors cannot invest directly in an index.

Gross exposure is calculated by adding the total value of the long and short positions. Net exposure is calculated by subtracting the value of the short positions from the long positions. For funds that takes idio-syncratic risk (i.e., stock specific) on both long and short positions, gross exposure can be a valuable depiction of investments at risk in addition to net exposure (market risk).
