CALAMOS INVESTMENTS TEAMS WITH NBA SUPERSTAR
GIANNIS ANTETOKOUNMPO TO DELIVER POSITIVE SOCIETAL RETURNS
THROUGH THE LAUNCH OF NEW SUSTAINABLE FUNDS

Metro Chicago, IL, Feb. 6, 2023 – John Koudounis, President and CEO of [Calamos Investments](http://Calamos Investments), announced that the global investment management firm has partnered with NBA superstar Giannis Antetokounmpo with the shared aim to inspire, drive greatness and contribute to a better world. One step, one leap and one shot at a time, the firm under Koudounis' leadership is teaming with Antetokounmpo to leverage their successes to try to make a difference and have a positive impact on society. To meet this goal, together, they are launching the new Calamos Antetokounmpo Sustainable Equity Funds, a suite of ESG funds that will be publicly accessible to investors.

John Koudounis and Giannis Antetokounmpo share the goals of economic empowerment, financial education, and giving back, especially to young people in the community. To that end, the Calamos Antetokounmpo partnership, structured as joint venture adviser, Calamos Antetokounmpo Asset Management LLC, of which each of Calamos Investments and Giannis Antetokounmpo is a 50% co-owner, seeks to donate a portion of its profits to charity, and the funds will follow ESG investment principles.

"I'm grateful for this partnership since it allows us the opportunity to deliver impact on the grandest scale and leave a legacy of a better world for my children and all young people because they are the future. John and I share the principles of family, community, and economic empowerment," Antetokounmpo said.

"The values that Giannis and I share forge the foundation for a great partnership. We chose to work together because we are both deeply passionate about our goals. We aspire to have a positive impact in the community and the world today in ways that can lead to greater wellbeing and a brighter tomorrow," Koudounis said.

This new suite of ESG funds will enable investors to participate in a product that focuses on performing – striving to beat the S&P 500 with lower risk over the long term -- and seeking to deliver positive societal impact. Calamos will apply its proprietary environmental and impact scoring system that assesses a company's ability to effectively mitigate environmental, social and governance risk, evaluating six categories: product contribution, life cycle innovation, operational efficiency, inclusive finance, ensuring health, and basic services.

The funds will be managed by sustainable investing pioneers Anthony Tursich, James Madden and Beth Williamson, 30-year industry trailblazers who were among the earliest portfolio managers in the US to assess “non-financial” criteria within their investment selection process. These criteria could include how a company interacts with its community, environment and employees.

Antetokounmpo will not make investment decisions in the funds, but he will serve on the adviser’s board of directors. He will play a role in setting the direction of the fund and partnership’s mission, as well as shaping the joint venture’s targeted annual charitable contribution.

The funds are available through mutual fund and ETF vehicles, enabling access by individual investors as well as institutions of all sizes. The ETF will trade on the NYSE Arca under the ticker symbol SROI. The ticker of the mutual fund’s institutional class is SROIX. Both display the acronym for societal return on investment.

These innovative new funds are a hallmark of the tenure of John Koudounis, who assumed the position of Calamos CEO in 2016 and has more than 25 years of experience on Wall Street. Since joining the firm, Koudounis has more than doubled its assets under management (AUM), from roughly $18 billion to over $36 billion (as of 1/31/23). He continues the expansion of Calamos’ actively-managed product offerings to meet growing investor demand. Founded in 1977, Calamos pioneered investing in convertible securities and liquid alternatives, and has been a major player in the market for nearly a half-century.
