WEEKLY HEADLINES

Start by Looking At Alts' Correlation, Volatility Profile, Says Morningstar

Those searching for a liquid alt should start by understanding a strategy's correlation and volatility profile, Morningstar recently wrote on ignites.com in a post about their Alternatives Style Box. While investors may think of alts as "diversifying strategies, many derive returns from the same forces that propel equity markets."

Their analysis finds that "a whopping" 134 of the 198 strategies with a three-year track record place in the high correlation tier of the style box (0.5 to 1.0). "It's not a hard and fast rule that a strategy with a correlation above 0.5 is necessarily 'highly correlated,' nor do we think that disqualifies a strategy from being a 'true alternative,'" comments Morningstar.

Sixty percent of the strategies have volatility that's between 33% and 66% of equities (see chart, bottom right). Considering that many managers can control the alts' relative volatility using leverage, this "likely speaks to the risk investors are willing to tolerate."

MORNINGSTAR STYLE BOX ANALYSIS OF LIQUID ALTS BY CORRELATION, VOLATILITY

Breakdown of 198 alts' strategies with a three-year record

Source: Morningstar, September 22, 2022, Ignites.com

Definitions and Disclosures

The Nontraditional Bond category contains funds that pursue strategies divergent in one or more ways from conventional practice in the broader bond-fund universe. Multistrategy portfolios offer investors exposure to two or more alternative investment strategies, as defined by Morningstar's alternative category classifications, through either a single-manager or multi-manager approach. Macro Trading strategies, using either systematic or discretionary methods, look for investment opportunities by studying such factors as the global economy, government policies, interest rates, inflation, and market trends. Systematic Trend funds primarily trade liquid global futures, options, swaps, and foreign exchange contracts, both listed and over-the-counter. Commodities Broad-basket portfolios can invest in a diversified basket of commodity goods including but not limited to grains, minerals, metals, livestock, cotton, oils, sugar, coffee, and cocoa. Commodities Precious Metals can invest in precious metals such as gold, silver, platinum, and palladium. Energy Limited Partnership strategies invest a significant amount of their portfolio in energy master limited partnerships, also known as MLPs. Relative Value Arbitrage strategies seek out pricing discrepancies between pairs or combinations of securities regardless of asset class. Equity Market Neutral strategies attempt to profit from long and short stock selection decisions while minimizing systematic risk created by exposure to factors such as overall equity market beta, sectors, market-cap ranges, investment styles, or countries. Event-driven strategies attempt to profit when security prices change in response to certain corporate actions, such as bankruptcies, mergers and acquisitions, emergence from bankruptcy, shifts in corporate strategy, and other atypical events. Real Estate portfolios invest primarily in real estate investment trusts of various types. REITs are companies that develop and manage real estate properties. Convertible-bond portfolios are designed to offer some of the capital-appreciation potential of stock portfolios while also supplying some of the safety and yield of bond portfolios. Options trading strategies use a variety of options trades, including put writing, options spreads, options-based hedged equity, and collar strategies, among others. Derivative Income strategies primarily use an options overlay to generate income while maintaining significant exposure to equity market risk. Long-Short Equity funds hold sizeable stakes in both long and short positions in equities, exchange traded funds, and related derivatives. Infrastructure equity funds invest more than 60% of their assets in stocks of companies engaged in infrastructure activities. Industries considered to be part of the infrastructure sector include: oil & gas midstream; waste management; airports; integrated shipping; railroads; shipping & ports; trucking; engineering & construction; infrastructure operations; and the utilities sector.
